

APPLETON TRADE SCHOOL IS ONE OF BEST IN COUNTRY

DIRECTOR W. S. FORD, BACK FROM INSPECTION TRIP THROUGH EAST, PRAISES LOCAL SCHOOL

FACE BIG POSSIBILITIES

Night School Provides Finest Opportunity for Advancement—Recommendations Two Year Technical Course—Need Two More Departments

"Appleton has as good a vocational school as any in the country, as to the building itself," W. S. Ford, director of the local school, stated today. Mr. Ford was a member of a Wisconsin delegation of six which has just returned from an inspection trip thru the east, visiting the industrial schools of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Jersey City, Brooklyn, Boston, Rochester, Buffalo, and Hamilton.

"Appleton has an opportunity to do unusually fine work because of this good start, for our building and work thus far is only a start, a beginning. The time is coming, and that shortly, too, when boys and a few girls, are going to be trained for a definite work before leaving school.

"Vocational schools are not understood, and therefore unappreciated by the majority of people. There is a place in every school system for this kind of work. Twenty-five states have received aid for vocational education from the federal government."

"The vocational school is no longer an experiment," Mr. Ford declared, "but has proven its worth in the east."

The night school is the big opportunity of the vocational school, he stated. "Training means increased earning power for the worker."

Mr. Ford today submitted his report of the trip through the east before the Vocational school board, recommending the addition of commercial and electrical courses to the curriculum, and if possible, a course in paper industry.

A place for serving noon luncheon of the pupils and a room for work in nursing by the girls should be provided, he declared.

"The visit to the educational centers in the east shows clearly that industrial education in trade and construction schools has entered upon a period of development which will lead to a re-organization of the entire school system," Mr. Ford said in his report.

"This change is apparent in the establishment of the intermediate or junior high school where the emphasis is laid on the choosing and preparation for a vocation. The continuation school has had a more rapid development in Wisconsin than in the east because a special machinery was set up to develop it. The Smith-Hughes law is extending it to every state. The schools of this class have demonstrated that they have come to stay. They pay well in increased earning power of the pupils.

"Viewed from the light of this inspection, the possibilities for the development of the Appleton Vocational school are large. The changing of the compulsory age from 17 to 18 will add about 300 pupils to the day school, according to the last school census, thus nearly doubling the size of the day school.

"The large opportunity to do service to the city is in the evening school. Every adult is a prospective student and I am convinced that with the proper equipment and instructors it will be possible to secure 1,000 people in evening classes each term. There is a place in the school system for a city of this size for a full time vocational school having a two year technical course. It would probably be advisable to begin this department by adding one course at a time. The popularity of the machine shop work points to that as the first one to be established."

The Wisconsin delegation included besides Mr. Ford, John Callahan, state director; E. W. Schultz, president state board; J. H. McQuaid and George F. Cummings, members state board; and L. J. Cooley, director Milwaukee vocational school. The personnel of the party made access to the different schools possible and gained the personal attention of the responsible heads.

The party held a conference with L. S. Hawkins, chief federal vocational education division; L. H. Harris, assistant chief, and Arthur Hild, director of the federal board, at Washington. The growth of the continuation school through compulsory state laws is important, in the opinion of the federal officers. The increase of the age limit for full time attendance will not lessen the work of the continuation school. This gives the school a contact with the pupil after he enters industry and gives him the opportunity to continue his special training.

No Stopping Suff Progress, Leader Avers

Mrs. Catt, President of Suffrage Association, Blames Four Senators for Delay in Giving the Vote to Women

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago. — The enemy of woman suffrage is "a fly sitting on the wheel of progress" imagining he can command it to revolve no more and that it will obey," Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the national suffrage association said in her opening address at the convention of the organization here today.

Mrs. Catt reviewed the battle for the federal suffrage amendment citing the difficulties which were overcome in securing its passage by congress and in the present fight for quick ratification by the states.

She attacked Senators Borah of Idaho, Wadsworth of New York, Pomerene of Ohio and Hitchcock of Nebraska, as "refusing to represent their states" in the Sixty Fifth congress when the amendment failed to pass.

"As the amendment needed but a single vote in the 65th congress the responsibility for its failure to pass may be laid upon any one of the four," she said. "They not only put their own states to the expense of extra sessions but all the other states as well."

Mrs. Catt called upon suffragists to rally to the support of any governor who may be attacked by their political opponents for bringing the extra expense of special sessions upon their respective states.

"When a republican governor calls a special session in order to ratify the merely atones for the inexplicable conduct of two members of his own party," Mrs. Catt said. "They are not here—blame for the fact that the special sessions became necessary."

"The democratic governor who has called a special session only makes honorable amends for the misrepresentation by members of his own party."

Recommendations formulated by various committees outlining the future plans of the league of women voters, will be submitted to the convention next week. These recommendations include a plan for educational, hygiene, child welfare, and food control work.

Plans made by the conference of women lawyers of the country, which will be presented to the convention, include standardization of all laws concerning women.

Laws affecting marriage, divorce, independent citizenship for married women, control of wives' wages and mothers' pensions was discussed.

Suffragists were jubilant today when they learned that Arizona had ratified the federal amendment. It was the thirty first state to approve the amendment. Five more are needed. Suffrage leaders were confident these five would be procured before the convention adjourns next Wednesday.

A political row developed today over the insertion of an advertisement in the official program by the Illinois republicans, who, the committee asserted, "to the republican party owe our passage of the federal suffrage amendment."

"It is a shocking thing to put a paid partisan advertisement in a non-partisan organization program," declared Mrs. George Bass, head of the democratic women's committee. "It is not a true statement and I consider it shocking and most unethical."

The republican women took the attitude that they had "put one over" on their democratic sisters.

"The democratic women had an equal opportunity to insert their advertisement," said Miss Mary Garrett Hax of the republican women's committee. "Why didn't they do it?"

LODGE PASSES BUCK TO HITCHCOCK AND HE GIVES IT BACK

DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN LEADERS TRY TO HANG RESPONSIBILITY ON EACH OTHER

(By L. C. Martin)
Washington. — "It's up to you," said Senator Lodge to Senator Hitchcock and "it's up to you," said Hitchcock to Senator Lodge.

Thus opposing leaders in the treaty fight today were passing to the other side the responsibility for ratification or failure of the treaty, when it comes up in the open senate next Monday.

Hitchcock said he's going to let Lodge do all the leading, but gave no assurances that democrats will follow. Lodge said he and 28 other republicans are ready with a program, including a reservation on article X, and if the democrats will provide some votes the treaty can be ratified.

Lodge seemed settled that the compromise reservation on article X submitted by mild reservationists to Lodge and the democrats will not be the basis for an agreement. Six of Lodge's 35 supporters will not vote for it.

Thirty five democratic votes would be required to put it through and they are not to be had.

Leaders of the mild group said they are willing to amend the reservation to please the democrats but it is doubtful if it could command sixty four votes even with the addition of proposed amendments.

The endless talk about the treaty continued today as the time approached for bringing it up on the floor. Some senators are hopeful, even confident of ratification. Others are glum, almost hopeless.

DRY LAW FORCES SALE OF FORMER GERMAN VESSELS

GOVERNMENT OPERATION OF PASSENGER SHIPS FAILS BECAUSE NO LIQUOR CAN BE SOLD

REMAIN UNDER U. S. FLAG

Report That Ships Will Fall Into Hands of Foreigners Are Denied by Chairman Payne of the U. S. Shipping Board

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington. — Senate action to halt the contemplated sale of ex-German liners by the shipping board was blocked today when Senator Jones, Washington, objected to consideration of the Ashurst resolution until after it had been passed upon in committee.

The Ashurst resolution would have forbidden sale of the ships except at public sale to the highest bidder after three months' notice. The shipping board intends to auction the liners Monday.

Senator Jones, who is chairman of the senate commerce committee, to which the resolution now goes, objected when the measure, asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

"I cannot consent to that procedure," Jones said. "It is a joint resolution and must first be referred to committee the same as a bill."

Washington. — Constitutional prohibition which makes government owned passenger vessels dry was given today by John Barton Payne, chairman of the shipping board as the main reason for the sale of 20 former German liners to be auctioned next Monday.

Government operation of these vessels under such conditions cannot be successful and the ships can be sold to better advantage now than later in the opinion of the board, Payne declared in a letter to Rep. Mead, New York, today.

Payne pointed out that the cost of re-conditioning twenty of the liners would be $37,000,000 while the bids for these vessels were $20,000,000.

In view of the present situation," Payne wrote, "it did not seem to us we were justified in incurring so large an expense."

The shipping board chairman denied that the vessels would fall into the hands of foreign interests, because the vessels will be sold only under the conditions that they shall remain under the American flag and be sailed in routes indicated by the shipping board.

"This, we believe, will adequately protect the United States," Payne wrote.

"It is the opinion of the shipping board that we will probably not be able to operate passenger ships under prohibition successfully in competition with foreign ships which sell liquor."

"The reason why is this: In December the Moccasin was sold to South America. Her berth was all sold. When I announced that in view of the policy of the congress government ships would not be permitted to sell liquor one-half of the sailings were immediately cancelled.

"Conditions in the shipping world are such that it is our conviction that there will never be a time when we will sell our ships to better advantage than now, and since it is our conviction that the ships can be successfully operated in private ownership, we believe the sale should be made."

Lively discussion of the proposal to sell the German ships broke out in the senate when Senator Ashurst, Arizona, introduced a resolution forbidding disposal of the ships except at public sale to the highest bidder three months after notice of intention to sell.

Ashurst also had Payne's letter read. He declared flatly that the shipping board does purpose selling for $28,000,000 a fleet which at pre-war prices is worth $154,000,000 and at present rates worth $300,000,000.

"The price at which they propose to sell these ships is about $80 a ton," said Ashurst. "England offered $125 a ton for them."

Senator Jones, Washington, stated he had asked Payne concerning the reported proposal to sell the ships Monday. Payne, according to Jones, announced that bids will be opened Monday and after that the board will consider whether to sell the ships or not.

Senator King went to the telephone during the discussion and asked Payne regarding the alleged purpose to sell the fleet for $28,000,000.

"Judge Payne assures me," said King, "that there is not a scintilla of truth in the charge that an agreement has been made with the International Mercantile Marine to sell the German ships for $28,000,000."

Ashurst, urging immediate action on the resolution, said:

"It is needless to say that my remarks are no reflection on the shipping board." He opposed sale of the ships under any circumstances, declaring they are the "second line of the navy."

Senator Pomerene asked what opportunity had been given for competitive bids.

"In the past the public has not had the opportunity to bid that it should have had," he added.

William Snider, porter at the Arcade, is back to work after a two weeks' illness.

EUROPEANS PEACE CONFEREES TACKLE ITALIAN PROBLEM

SETTLEMENT OF ADRIATIC QUESTION AND TURKISH PROBLEM WILL REQUIRE SEVERAL DAYS

SEND NEW NOTE TO GERMANY

Another Letter Regarding Surrender of German War Gully is to go to Berlin—Would Welcome an American Representative

By Ed. L. Keen
By United Press Leased Wire
London. — The council of premiers today was to take up the Turkish and Adriatic questions, considered two of the most perplexing of the problems growing out of the war.

Consideration of these questions was expected to last several days, possibly a fortnight, after which the council will adjourn to its permanent headquarters in Paris.

The premiers yesterday considered the German attitude of refusal to surrender the list of war gullys, whose surrender for trial by Allied tribunals is demanded. It was said, and decided to send a new note to Germany on this subject. The question of extradition of the former kaiser also was considered.

A conference of ministers of finance of the principal Allied nations was decided upon, it was said, to consider the international exchange and finance situation. This conference, according to some sources will be called immediately.

No American representatives have attended the council's meetings it was learned "because no delegate had been appointed."

American participation would have been welcomed, officials indicated. They said the council was in complete accord on all questions, indicating that differences between premiers Lloyd George and Millerand on the question of relations with Russia and possible modifications in the treaty of Versailles, had been ironed out.

The council has not decided what course it will follow in making known its decisions to the United States government, it was learned. It had counted on unofficial American representation, but ambassador Davis' refusal to attend without instructions from the state department in Washington, prevented carrying out of this plan.

The council of premiers will continue its discussions of Holland's refusal to grant the Allied request for extradition of the former kaiser at today's session, Premier Millerand declared in an interview.

"We discussed the reply to the German note of Jan. 25 (in which Germany pleaded she could not deliver the Allied list of war gullys) yesterday," Millerand said, adding that the Allied reply to the German note would be put in definite shape today and handed to the German government as soon as possible.

Opens New Discussions
Paris. — The new Allied note to Germany, on delivery of war gullys, reported to have been decided upon by the council of premiers at its session today, the Allies request for extradition of the former kaiser at today's session, Premier Millerand declared in an interview.

While the note will be firm in tone, it was said, it will follow out in part the suggestions of Premier Lloyd George, which he urged because of the political situation in Great Britain.

Premier Millerand, according to French sources, insisted there must be no modification of the essential parts of the Versailles treaty and asked Lloyd George and Nitti to support his plan for extension of military occupation of Germany if the treaty clauses are not carried out.

In some French quarters it was believed that if Germany persists in her refusal to surrender those accused of war crimes, and the Allies are unable to bring about a practical method to obtain their arrest, the war gullys would be tried "in absentia" so their crimes may be published to the world.

COOPERATIVE BANK IS URGED AT THE FARM-LABOR MEET

BANK SHOULD BE STARTED WITH CAPITAL STOCK OF FROM $200,000 TO $500,000

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago. — A nation-wide cooperative banking system operating under state banking laws was urged by Frederick C. Howe, of the committee on democratic railroad control, Washington, at the All-American Farmer-Labor cooperative congress here today.

Parent bank should be started at once, probably at Cleveland, Howe said. Capital of from $250,000 to $500,000, should be subscribed or underwritten by the railroad, brotherhoods, and national farm organizations, he said.

The purposes of the proposed banking system he summarized as follows: The promotion of cooperation and direct trading between producer and consumer.

The extending of aid through loans and credit to farmers and farm organizations.

The promotion of progress and of the interests of labor.

One important branch of the proposed system would be the protection of immigrants from exploitation at the hands of banking interests, Howe said. The cooperative bank could furnish at nominal cost foreign exchange service and transmission service for immigrants, he said.

Howe held that local branches of the parent bank could be established from time to time until the system covers the entire country.

MINISTER OBJECTS TO KNEES, PUTS END TO SHOW
By United Press Leased Wire
Port Chester, N. Y. — Knees, and their accessories, have no place in this town—at least not for exhibition purposes.

The Rev. Harry B. Heald, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, withdrew as a patron of a benefit for a tuberculosis fund last November because the society girls in it wore kilts.

Last night the Rev. Mr. Heald's aversion for knees brought to an abrupt end a movie show in the parish rooms, being held under the auspices of the church. The film which had been loaned by a local theater was not delivered, contained some knees—strange ones, at that.

"Well, it was passed by the National Board of Censorship," explained the Sunday school official who was operating the movie machine.

PRESIDENT ANSWERS UNION DEMAND FOR INCREASE IN WAGES

"DEAD" NEGRO IS NOT QUITE READY FOR THE CEMETERY

Dallas, Tex. — Dan Clay, 50, today was a marked negro.

If he were inclined to voodoo, converts would flock away from him like two dusky undertakers did when he sat up on the embalming slab and began to demand his clothes, because

He's been dead.

Wednesday afternoon, Dan's brother found him in bed, cold, stiff, his head and an arm hanging over the side of the bed. A physician pronounced him dead of "flu" and the body was carried away in a "dead basket."

The hours passed. And then

Night. An embalmer's work shop, rigid bodies "laid out." Two large-eyed negro embalmer's doggedly at their gruesome tasks. A clock struck twice.

"We'll take that 'un next," Undertaker Smith muttered, pointing an embalming instrument at Dan. It was too much. "Looky heah, what yo' tryin' to do to me?" Dan demanded, sitting up.

When the ambulance attendants coaxed the undertakers back, Dan was able to walk to the "dead wagon."

"The resurrected Dan today was more inclined to anger than voodoo.

"Ah hates travelin' round in dead wagons. Next time make sho ah's dead. Yo' niggahs wants a funeral too much."

BELIEVED THAT PRESIDENT HAS REFUSED REQUEST FOR FORTY PER CENT WAGE BOOST

NO PUBLIC STATEMENT

Union Men, However, Will Make Public a Statement Tomorrow Morning—Find President in Good Condition

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington. — President Wilson today handed representatives of two million railroad workers his decision on their wage demands and at the same time submitted to them a proposition which is expected to lead to further negotiations. It was authoritatively stated at the white house.

It was understood that the president refused demands for immediate wage increases of approximately forty per cent.

What constituted the counter proposition was not disclosed by white house officials.

Immediately after seeing Wilson the railroad men's committee, consisting of Timothy Shea, head of the firemen; E. J. Manion, head of the railroad telegraphers, and B. M. Jewell, head of the American Federation of Labor, railroad department, met other railroad men at a hotel.

The union leaders refused to say whether the president had granted them the increase they asked.

Leaving the white house the committee went directly to a hotel to report to the group of fourteen union representatives who have been conducting negotiations with Rail Director Hines.

The committee was with the president scarcely fifteen minutes. He received the men on the south portico of the white house. The union representatives tomorrow probably will make public a statement of the situation as they see it, Shea said.

"I believe we will forward a communication of some kind to the president today," said Shea.

"President Wilson gave no indications, as far as appearances were concerned, of a man who has been ill for months," said Shea.

His gestures were decided, his enunciation absolutely clear and he frequently smiled.

Wilson shook hands with the committee men before and after the brief conference. They said his grip was firm.

Shea, who conferred with Wilson when a strike in 1917 was threatened, said the president looked much the same today as he did then. His face was full, his color healthy and his eyes clear, said Shea.

Following the White House conference the railroad administration let it be known that it would issue a statement late today on the brotherhood of maintenance of way employees, the only one of the fourteen railroad unions which has set a strike date.

John Malloy, vice president of the brotherhood, was not at the general meeting of union representatives of the American Federation of Labor but other leaders were trying to reach him. Malloy said before the White House meeting that his brotherhood would strike next Tuesday unless the wage demands were granted.

Union men at the meeting refused to say whether the president's "proposition" dealt with living costs, but it was believed that this phase of the situation was mentioned since the increase in prices are the basis for the wage demands.

The United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Workers, has sent out a strike order, effective Tuesday, 7 a. m. Officials of the union late yesterday delivered to Hines, a formal notice that the order had gone out and that it could be cancelled only through the union officials to await the conference today with President Wilson.

The union officials went in the conference, however, declaring that the conference with Wilson could not change the course authorized by the unions' general chairman. A strike by the union will affect 300,000 track walkers, section hands and repairmen, according to Vice-President John Malloy. Travel will be unsafe if trains are operated while the union members are on strike, Malloy said.

Railroad administration officials declare the strike a violation of the union agreement which they say provides thirty days notice must be given before the agreement is terminated. Associates of Hines declare this notice has not been given.

President W. G. Lee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has given Hines formal notice of the desire of his union to terminate its contract. The termination notice is effective Feb. 23. No formal strike order has gone out of the trainmen.

WOLVERINES PLAY BADGERS SATURDAY

MICHIGAN BASKETBALLERS DUE FOR ANOTHER DEFEAT WHEN THEY PLAY AT MADISON

Madison. — Michigan university tailors in "big ten" basketball standings, is slated for another defeat when she takes on Wisconsin here Saturday night. The Wolverines have been showing poor as basketballers, losing all of the four games played so far.

Wisconsin, starting the season with low grade basketball, has steadily improved and if she keeps her pace will undoubtedly climb a notch or two before the season ends.

Taylor, Badger forward, abandoned his conservative tactics in the Minnesota game a week ago Saturday and opened up with a string of field goals.

Brun, Barlow, McIntosh and Blocher have been barred from further competition on the conference basketball floor by failure to make the required standings in their studies. The loss of these stars is felt keenly by Coach Loyman.

Capt. "Mike" Knapp, Weston, Zulfar and Taylor are still in the going, however, so the Badgers have a lineup which has lost little of its formidableness.

Wisconsin's next three basketball opponents will be met on the Badger home grounds. Following Michigan, games will be played with Illinois, Feb. 21, and Ohio, Feb. 24.

Minnesota is making plans to wipe out the defeat received at Wisconsin's hands two weeks ago, when the time again on Feb. 28, this time at Minnesota. Michigan has a second chance at Wisconsin on March 6, and the Badgers go to Ohio on March 8. Chicago will come to Madison on March 12.

UMPIRES INSTRUCTED TO ENFORCE RULES AGAINST THE SPITTER—OLD TIMERS EXEMPTED.

New York.—Behold the poor umpire in his new job.

Shades of the old days, he's to be the prohibition enforcer of baseball. In addition to calling balls and strikes, stopping bottles with his tender head, and hearing his family history traced from the diamond and the stands, the poor old ump must stop the issue of wet goods on the diamond.

Baseball has joined the van and gone dry. Highballs still will be permissible, but in keeping with the times they cannot be wet. The spit ball has been deemed an offending member of the wet family.

Youngsters who aspire to greatness on the pitching mound will be educated, but in modern belief that it's dangerous to handle wet goods, that one is better off without them and that the boy who never starts the habit will never break his heart stopping it.

Recruits with ambitions to become Vaishes, Mathewsons, Browns, etc., will be forced to sign a pledge before they can get into the select company of dry baseball.

The old timers who have made a living dishing out the wet goods and who faced ruin in business with the advent of the dry wave, were spared by the kindly fathers of the game.

They, the old "topers" of the past, can leave up wet highballs from the mound, but they must have a license signed by the president and all the notables. Umpires can raid the box at any time and demand the license. If it is not found and any evidence goods is spotted, the all-powerful ump can jail the boxmen in the locker room.

FRATERNITY COUNCIL PLANS BOWLING TOURNEY

College Fraternity Men Will Compete for Trophy Offered by W. O. Thiede—Council to Name Officers

An inter-fraternity council was organized yesterday at Lawrence college when the presidents of the various fraternities met to make plans for organization. Officers will be elected at the next meeting. Plans were made at yesterday's meeting for an inter-fraternity bowling tournament to begin Saturday. The schedule will be arranged today and teams will be provided by each of the fraternities. The winning fraternity will receive the loving cup, donated by W. O. Thiede, to hold for a year. In order to retain the cup, a fraternity must win the tournament three years in succession. At present Beta Sigma Phi is holding it.

Charles Plotner, Chicago, former proprietor of the Randolph hotel here, is visiting in the city.

A regular meeting of the Equitable Fraternal Union will be held at South Masonic hall this evening.

NEENAH YOUNG MAN, PLAYING THIRD YEAR ON TEAM, IS HONORED AT MEETING TODAY

Neenah. — Keesvil Larson, who has become known as the "Hero of the Caucasus" is to speak at the Boy Scout and Father and Son's program at the Methodist church on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Larson is one of two Americans who survived the Turkish atrocities in the Near-East during the year. In an ex-service man and has come home with a most unusual experience to relate. Mr. Larson and his partner, Mr. Arroll, became famous as the two Americans who remained in the Armenian country after all Americans had been ordered to leave. They also made a bold stroke when they wrote a sight-draft on the Near-East Relief in New York for $350,000 and cashed it, and spent the money for immediate relief of the starving people about them. They might have been imprisoned for the act, but after the real conditions that prompted the deed were revealed, they were highly honored.

The meeting Sunday night will be held under the auspices of Troops 2 and 4 of the Boy Scouts. Boy Scouts will usher. The male octette and Dean Evans will furnish the special music for the evening, thus making it, in every way, a men's program.

GRAND CHUTE AGAIN IS BLAMED FOR BAD ROADS

People driving through the town of Grand Chute say there is a two mile stretch on the Spencer road that affords more thrills than the "Ocean Wave" of an amusement park. For some reason, no attention has been given the care of this road by the township, and it affords any number of pitch holes and narrow gauge sleigh tracks that invite tip-overs. They predict that it will not be surprising if the town has a damage suit on its hands for injuries before the snow disappears.

The meeting Sunday night will be held under the auspices of Troops 2 and 4 of the Boy Scouts. Boy Scouts will usher. The male octette and Dean Evans will furnish the special music for the evening, thus making it, in every way, a men's program.

RALLY

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Grain futures fluctuated violently on the Chicago board of trade today.
After opening a fraction higher quotations dropped 2 and 3 cents as the result of local selling. Buying then developed and corn rallied 3½¢ from extreme low. New York reports that French demand for grain showed strength was one of the main factors in the rise.
Feb. corn opened ¼¢ higher at $1.33½, dropped 2¢ and later recovered 4½¢. March opened up ½¢ at $1.37½, fell ¾¢ and later went 3¢ over the opening; May started ½¢ up at $1.31½, dropped 1½¢ and later regained 2½¢; July opened ½¢ up at $1.28½, dropped 1½¢ and then recovered 2½¢.
May oats opened ½¢ up at 79¢, lost ¼¢ and then jumped 1½¢; July opened up ½¢ at 71¢, then dropped ½¢ and later recovered ¾¢. Provisions were lower.

New York.—The stock market today opened irregular following the Lincoln birthday recess. Demand sterling on the foreign exchange was up a ½¢ at $3.38½.
On the stock exchange U. S. Steel opened at 96¼ off ½; Studebaker 82½ off ¼; Republic 101½, up ¼; Mexican Petroleum 165 off 1¼; A. T. and T. 96¼ off ¼; Crucible 208 unchanged; New York Central 65, unchanged; Sinclair 35½ off ¼; Central 3¼; Southern Pacific 83¼ off ¼; Baldwin 107½, up ¼; American Woolen 120¼ unchanged; U. S. Rubber 96, up ¼; Reading 65, unchanged; General Motors 235 off ¼; U. R. Stores 67½, off 1.
The curb market was irregular at the opening.
Execution of selling orders accumulated over the holiday resulted in weakness in a number of issues.
The death of Henry B. Endicott, head of the Endicott-Johnson Company had an adverse effect on that stock which opened at 110 off 8½.
Steel Common rallied ½ a point in the first few minutes.
The railroad situation seemed to have no effect on the market. The tendency on the whole list was easier; United States Steel declined to 96 and then stiffened. General Motors sold off 2½ from the opening to 232½ and Baldwin declined to 107½. Crucible broke to 201.
Heavy selling waves hit the market during the morning and resulted in new lows being made in the list. United States Steel went down to 95 and Crucible, breaking through 200, found a temporary bottom at 197, off 11 points net. From this point it rallied to 201½.
Pierce-Arrow, U. S. Rubber and Republic Steel also broke sharply.
After the new lows were made on this raid the market rallied slightly, apparently on short covering, steel holding slightly above 95. Demand sterling rose to $3.40; lire checks to 1794, marks were unchanged at .0104. Call money was quoted at 7 per cent.

During the noon hour the market rallied sharply along the whole list, making up the early losses in whole or in part. The upturn was in part induced by short covering, but there was also indication of good commission buying.
Baldwin rallied to about Wednesday's close at 107; Crucible recovered to 203; and General Motors to 233½.

LOAN ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL MEET

LOANS AGGREGATING $6,500 ACTED UPON — SEE-BUILDING BOOM HERE NEXT SUMMER

Applications for loans amounting to $6,500 were acted upon at the meeting of the board of directors of the Appleton Building and Loan association last evening at Citizens' bank.
In reviewing the business transacted the past month, it was noted that the association is showing a steady growth. Most of the new subscribers to the plan have voluntarily made application to enjoy the increased interest offered by the association.
Applications are now on file for loans amounting from $75,000 to $100,000. This would indicate, the directors state, that a building boom is likely to be enjoyed by Appleton this summer.

All of last year's officers and directors were reelected. They were as follows: President, J. J. Sherman; vice-president, Leslie Hansen; secretary, George H. Beckley; treasurer, E. C. Hilbert. The directors are J. J. Sherman, Leslie Hansen, Charles A. Green, J. L. Jacquot, H. G. Sackner, Philip Weisenbach, J. J. Plank, Henry Kian-zusch and H. A. Cloude-man.

COLLEGE FRESHMEN WANT TO DEBATE SOPHOMORES

Freshman-sophomore rivalry is not yet dead although the second semester of college is well on its way. This morning in chapel, Merritt Mitchell, president of the Freshman class, presented a challenge to the sophomore class to take part in a debate.
The challenge was accepted for the sophomores by Morton Schaefer and final arrangements will be made shortly. Class feeling will once more be aroused to a high pitch.

DANCE HALL MANAGER SENDS CONVEYANCES FOR DANCERS

The proprietor of Lake Park resort on the shore of Lake Winnebago does not intend to let the condition of the roads interfere with the attendance at his dances. Wednesday evening he sent three sleighs to Appleton and three to Neenah and Menasha to gather up the young people who were in the habit of attending his parties, with the result that the hall was crowded.

Milton Donnelly, who is attending the Milwaukee school for engineers, has arrived home for a several days' visit with his parents.

EDUCATIONAL BONUS LAW.

The supreme court of Wisconsin has always been classed as a democratic court. Its opinions and decisions have been constantly refreshing evidence of the basic principle of our government, that within constitutional limitations, the majority must rule. The recent decision of the court in the soldiers' educational bonus law, enacted at the special session of the legislature, has been received by the public with general satisfaction.

The soldiers' educational bonus law is of far reaching importance to the state of Wisconsin. To the fair enactment and administration of its laws, to the creation of an era of good feeling among its people as well as the dissemination of educational facilities among the young men who so loyally and heroically endured hardship and privation that its institutions might endure. Already over ten thousand men from Wisconsin, who have served in the army, have indicated their desire to take advantage of the educational feature of the law, and upwards of five thousand of these soldiers are now attending the great institutions of learning, and actually receiving their benefits. The law gives to the soldiers thirty dollars a month while in regular attendance at an educational institution. It makes possible, particularly to men of limited means, a university training with all that that means for their futures.

Wisconsin passed this law modestly. Wisconsin knew that it could not repay these men for what they had done for Wisconsin. But Wisconsin wanted to do its utmost to benefit these men, and also to impress upon them a measure of the appreciation which this state has for the splendid services rendered to it by its soldiers.

When the supreme court approached the decision of the validity of the law, it encountered many delicate and intricate problems which had to be surmounted in order that the law might live, and the men get the benefits which the people of the state wanted them to have. It has been one of the fundamental principles of our form of government that money shall not be expended except for "public purposes." Upon a superficial examination of the law one might conclude that the purposes were not public in the broad meaning usually ascribed to that term, but were, in fact, private in the sense that the benefits were being reaped by individuals, and not the public generally. The supreme court of Wisconsin looked beyond this artificial argument, and in characteristically strong language construed the soldiers' educational bonus bill as an appropriation of funds for "public purposes," although the funds were to go directly to the ex-soldiers to insure them an education. The language of the court is forward-looking language. There are no cobwebs on it. It is language in keeping with our age and time. The court said that the purpose of the law "is not to make the soldier financially whole, but to express gratitude, and stimulate love of country in those that give, in those that receive, and in the public at large, to the end that an impressive object lesson in patriotism may be engraved in the hearts of all." Answering the contention that patriotism was not a public purpose, the court said that "since it is the duty of the government to maintain domestic tranquility, and since that can be successfully done only by the patriotic devotion of its citizens, the stimulation of patriotism becomes a public or governmental function."

The supreme court of Wisconsin went out of its way to pay a generous compliment to the Wisconsin men in the army. It speaks the deep gratitude of the people of the state to those who so signally and heroically performed the task that called them into action, and who stamped the Wisconsin soldier as the bravest and most efficient among the soldiers of the world. It said: "A free government's best guaranty of security lies in the enlightenment of its people. This is true both in time of peace and in time of war. The proved efficiency of our soldiers was in large measure due to their excellent education both technical and general, in their power of initiative and in their willingness and ability to assume personal responsibility whenever the occasion demanded."

The people of the state of Wisconsin are well satisfied with the legislation enacted both as to the money bonus and the educational bonus as well. The soldiers of Wisconsin are well satisfied for they have been shown in clear and impressive manner that their government is grateful for, and deeply appreciates their services.

THE RAILROAD STRIKE ISSUE.

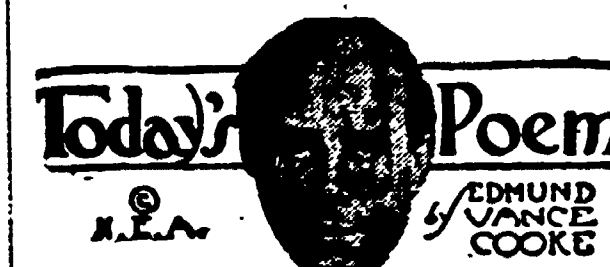

The threatened railroad strike raises an issue of vital importance to the nation. The brotherhoods have presented to the railroad administration what constitutes an ultimatum for an increase in wages. This demand the director-general has refused, and the men are now carrying their case to the president of the United States.

A rail strike at this time would be a public calamity. Transportation already is in a more or less chaotic state, due to the impaired physical condition of many of the railroads and to a general failure to expand equipment and facilities. We are in the midst of a serious freight congestion, and what is virtually an embargo upon certain commodities and classes of freight. It is a situation which is likely to grow worse instead of better. A strike which tied up transportation would have a paralyzing effect upon commerce and industry.

The railroad brotherhoods possess a power over their own affairs and the affairs of the country which they can use wisely or unwisely. We think they will be using it unwisely if they strike arbitrarily. They have presented demands, the justice and legitimacy of which can be determined only by a careful and thorough investigation. Their demands represent, so far as the public can judge, only their side of the case. Yet the public is vitally concerned, because an increase in wages will necessarily be passed along to it in the form of increased freight tariffs. The effects of this upon the economic conditions of the country are apparent.

Fairness requires that the railway employees throughout the United States shall receive adequate wages, based upon the value of the services they perform and their comfort and advancement beyond necessities. If they are not now receiving a wage which contributes to this standard of living they are entitled to an increase, but no increase should be granted until its justice is established by full and impartial inquiry. The railroads have a right to the presentation of their case, and the public has rights superior to both, because it pays the bill and its interests are intricately affected.

The bill before congress under which the railroads are to be returned to their owners carries provision for arbitration of wages and conditions of employment. This provision should, and doubtless will, be made comprehensive and equitable. That it is founded upon sound public policy and an impartial consideration of all interests involved is, we think, apparent. The present demands of the railroad brotherhoods ought to be determined on the basis contemplated by this act. We do not see how the president can adopt any other course than to request and insist that the men postpone a strike until a fair and dependable investigation shall determine the merits of their demands. We believe the men will profit most by acquiescence in such a proposal, and that they would alienate the support of public opinion if they rejected it. The action of the president will be awaited with the keenest public interest.

Today's Poem

SHE DOES, INDEED!
 O, Emphasis! how often heard
 And how enduring is the word
 Which clothes it.
 Yet once, if Sue had heard her Sam
 Emit a mild and gentle "damn,"
 She would have shrieked her shocked distress;
 But now, for little cause or less,
 She oaths it.

O, Maidenhood! but it is strange
 How custom and how costumes change;
 God knows it!
 For once, if Paul had said to Peg,
 That womankind possessed a "leg,"
 It surely had been counted shocking;
 But now, almost beyond her stocking,
 She shows it.

O, Modesty! what is your mode
 And what the quibblings of the code
 Which makes it?
 For once, if Jane had whispered Jimmy
 And mentioned that she wore a "shimmy,"
 It would have wrecked their young romance;
 But now, each evening in the dance
 She shakes it!

It Was So Like Daddy Lorimer to Defy All Mexico

Daddy Lorimer sat stiffly in a corner of the auto. For the first time in his strenuous life he found himself unable to cope with circumstances but from his defiant attitude I could see that his spirit had not been broken by the misfortunes of the week. His trials had been extreme: First I had disappeared in a most unaccountable way; Chrys had dropped out of sight just as mysteriously; then Bob had vanished.

Daddy had been forced to accept a single explanation for all of the cases and it was a plausible one. His children had been kidnapped by Mexican outlaws, a revolutionary gang at war with the Mexican government and having no connection whatever with the inhabitants of the hacienda! That was the lie he had been told. He had no idea that the man whose guest he was, his former business partner and best friend, was actually at the bottom of the plot. Certs might conspire to upset nations but he would never harm his friend. So Daddy Lorimer believed.

Kidnaping, however, was the fashion of the day in Mexico. Naturally the Hon. James D. Lorimer might conclude that he himself was in danger of being carried off with a price on his head. It was so like him to remain on the ground. It was like him to defy all Mexico, those in authority as well as the 57 varieties of political power outside of the government. It was like him to remain where his dear ones had disappeared, with the ransom money ready. There was in his attitude, as he sat in the auto, still in ignorance of the fact that Bob and I had been found, a stolid indifference to the seen and unseen forces of evil which surrounded him.

"I thought as Bob and I ran to greet him, that Daddy Lorimer, better than any one I had ever known, could honestly quote:
 "I am the master of my fate.
 "I am the captain of my soul."

"How can a human being acquire such a tremendous personality?" I asked myself. My answer to my own question was:
 "By not fussing and fretting and wearing himself out over petty things. Character is cumulative. And men and women, when they grow old, are beautiful or ugly, hateful or lovable according as they have builded all the days of their lives."

Daddy Lorimer hadn't treated dear mother just right, I remembered, but in everything else he had moved honestly and openly and directly. Nothing could upset his magnificent poise. His experiences at the hacienda had tried his soul but he was still its master.

The sound of our voices brought him from a deep reverie. He stepped from the auto and hurried to meet us with an exclamation of joy. "My son! My son!" he said. "My children!" He enclosed Bob and me in a single embrace, then he shook hands with Morrison as if that genial gentleman alone were responsible for the recovery of the foolhardy but precious pair. Archer and Spence he greeted also—of course he had known Bob's college chums for years—and then his eyes questioned the path we had followed.

"So put his hand on his father's arm," "Spence and I are going to find her," he said gently. "Believe me, Dad, if Chrys is alive, we'll find her. You are to escort Jane and Archer to the coast."
 Daddy Lorimer made a quick gesture of dissent. Bob tapped his father's wrist to emphasize the remainder of the plan.
 "Archer is out of it. He needs a nurse. For God's sake get him and Jane aboard the yacht as soon as you can. Morrison can't help you after he gets you to the coast. He has a lot to do in Mexico besides guarding the Lorimer clan. We may need him to help us rescue Chrys, you know."

AMERICAN CULTURE CENTER IN PARIS

Paris.—As one of the results of her part in the world war, America has left Europe a permanent center of American culture and literature—a big American library in Paris.

First of its kind on this side of the Atlantic, this institution, built upon the efforts of the American Library Association of the A. E. F., officially began life Jan. 1 when the war staff which conducted the project for the benefit of American soldiers in France, turned the building over to the new corps of permanent librarians.

It then became a rendezvous for people of all nations wishing education in American art, science and literature and for American in Europe wanting to keep in contact with "the states."

The venture has been financed by American business firms and American residents in Paris. The American Library Association contributed the chief librarian as its share in promoting closer intellectual union of the new and old worlds.

The thousands of American tourists due in France the next few years are expected to make the library one of their headquarters. It contains an immense collection of travel books, including a recently issued book in print dealing with continental countries, gathered together for the benefit of doughboys wanting to see Europe before going home.

The library is a composite of all the army libraries operated by the American Library Association in France. It comprises between 25,000 and 30,000 volumes.

As it is the only place in Europe where students can find a comparatively complete array of best American works, the staff believes it has become an important center in the European educational world.

The building is a few paces from the Champs Elysees, and directly across the street from the President's palace.

Prophecy of its future, Mrs. E. G. Potter, San Francisco, retiring chief librarian, reports hundreds of French, Italians, Russians, English, in fact all nationalities are already patronizing the book shelves. French students and residents alike have displayed a very keen eagerness in this opportunity to learn American literature. American scientific works are also in strong demand.

The library is manned with American librarians.

European librarians are watching the experiment with utmost interest. In that it gives them a chance to study the famous American library system. The idea of a free library is unknown in France. And there are only a few libraries where reference books may be read in reading rooms without charge.

It may lead to the transplanting of American library methods into the old world.

KENTUCKY QUIP

(Louisville Courier-Journal.)

"We want some lady to christen this ship."
 "What are the qualifications, governor?"
 "Almost any lady will do who has a bottle of champagne."

The Red Cross mission to Montenegro is still giving Red Cross service to American doughboys stationed there. The soldiers are part of the 322nd Infantry.

Lake Superior and Ireland are about the same size.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Friday, Feb. 13, 1895.

Miss Anna Babcock was suffering from quinsy.

Warren Jewell of Kaukauna was in Appleton the day previous.

P. J. Gates of Hortonville was in town the day previous.

Robt. Green and son Bob were visiting in Menomonie and Rhinelander.

Matt Schmidt had been laid up for several days with a bad cold.

The senior class of the Marinette High school was planning a visit to Appleton.

J. V. Bunn, the city directory man of Oshkosh, was in town.

B. M. Goldberg of Clintonville, was in town on business.

A. M. Spencer, formerly of Appleton, had become a member of the firm of Spencer, Tate & Co., West Superior, grain brokers.

Andy Smith, conductor of the Kaukauna scout, was out again after a several weeks' illness.

Mrs. E. Benton and Miss Jeanette Benton of Fond du Lac, well known in Appleton, had left for a visit to Los Angeles.

The evening previous George Dambach and Jennie E. Johnson were married.

H. M. Bell had resigned as division superintendent of the Wisconsin division of the St. Paul railway, and been succeeded by R. R. McInture.

Mrs. Zelle entertained forty guests the evening previous at the Hotel Ritzger, at a Valentine party. There was supper, dancing and cards, the prizes at cards being won by Mrs. Leigh Putney and Mr. W. B. Murphy.

The latest tramp trick being played in Appleton was begging clothes and pawning them for drinks.

The ladies of the Sixth Ward Sewing Circle were to treat their husbands that night to a sleighride to William Dutcher's place about three miles out on the Hortonville road.

To Save One Girl

Friend Boss:
 You ask me can I write a word about the robbing girlhood here, Who seek with lofty, pure ideals To gain a home for all—Who under one three-angled sign Combine for common good. You ask me can I write a word To help along the cause. Quite little can I say, for do I know But scant of their great work. And yet 'twas but short time ago There came to light an incident That in my mind will always live. The story's old. A young girl from the countryside. A trusting girl, who didn't know The pitfalls of this tricky world. And trouble came, as trouble does. And to her aid there came a friend. No word was said, unpublished was The little play. And that is all I know: The girls beneath the tri-side sign Reclaimed a life: they saved one girl! And that is all I know, Boss, Yes, that is all.

The gentlemen on our left points out that this month has five Sundays, and that it will be yabs and yabs for February again will lay claim to that honor. However (and we express the sentiment of the many,) five Saturdays would have been far more welcome.

We suggest that persons near the end of their tether write the Shawano ed. and find out whether they are headed for reward or punishment. It might save a lot of worry.

"We are coming," says H. Penseroso Cynicus, "upon a change in the features of mankind.  Doc Ellsworth says it isn't his fault if the dear girls court death by running around without hats during these snezy days, but he might help a little by issuing an order compelling the d. g. to go without chapeaux. They'd all be wearing them just to be contrary.

Skin Disease from Bathing.

The popular conception of the itch (scabies) is that the disease arises from filth, lack of personal cleanliness. There is as much sense in this notion as in the popular theory that colds come from exposure to some kind of weather. Scabies is caused by a parasite known as Acarus scabiei, and Acarus scabiei has no choice whatever between a clean person and a dirty one. To have the itch is no more distinctive than it is to have the flu.

Outside of romantic novels and sex-story magazines the frequency with which an individual bathes has no appreciable relation with the individual's personal cleanliness and freedom from skin disease.

Indeed many skin diseases are directly caused by too frequent bathing. Not the least annoying, if the least evident to a second person, is pruritis. This is the term applied to itching without apparent cause—applied it is but fair to explain, many years ago before the doctors had formed any definite opinion as to the cause of the itching. In our profession, when we don't know anything about something we endeavor to put a forbidding label on it. That either discourages questions or gives one an evasive answer to use.

Most of the sufferers from pruritis are over thirty-five. In their tissues, I mean, irrespective of years. About thirty-five (in tissues) we attain our physical perfection, and very shortly we begin the long glide down to senility. One of the earliest signs of approaching senility is the dryness of the skin. In youth the skin is oily, perhaps much too oily for a few years. But now, as age looms up head, the skin begins to grow dry and rough and harsh and cold. All right, quit bathing. Quit soap and water baths anyhow. Substitute an air bath every morning, with a dry friction with a towel by nature, and a Prohibitionist by gosh. If you wish a sure fire reply to your letter always inclose an envelope with a two-cent stamp affixed and your address written on it.

Would the use of bran regularly three times a day for six months, taking a little less each day, leave the stomach in normal condition? Also advise way to take it. (E. C.)

ANSWER—I will not injure the stomach. Take it mixed with any cereal, or eat the bran straight, or mix it with water, or take it in bran cookies, bran graham, bran bread, etc. It is a valuable addition to the diet in constipation, furnishing the natural stimulus of a bulky residue in the bowel. Too often our modern food has the very life "refined" out of it. White bread for instance.

ANSWER—I receive many letters from readers. Most of these are answered by mail. I have space to answer only a few questions here. The subject of your inquiry may have been unsuitable, or it may have been a repetition of a hick-nayed subject, or it may have been a request for a prescription or a diagnosis which I do not attempt to give. My address is in care of this newspaper. My fee for such advice as I am able to give a reader is good will. I am a Republican by birth, a Democrat by choice, a Socialist by nature, and a Prohibitionist by gosh. Would the use of bran regularly three times a day for six months, taking a little less each day, leave the stomach in normal condition? Also advise way to take it. (E. C.)

ANSWER—I will not injure the stomach. Take it mixed with any cereal, or eat the bran straight, or mix it with water, or take it in bran cookies, bran graham, bran bread, etc. It is a valuable addition to the diet in constipation, furnishing the natural stimulus of a bulky residue in the bowel. Too often our modern food has the very life "refined" out of it. White bread for instance.

VILLAGES PERFECT ORGANIZATION AND START WORK—THREE MORE ORPHANS ADOPTED HERE

HOODOO WORKS OVERTIME TODAY, FRIDAY THE 13TH
Undoubtedly a lot of Appleton husbands prepared their own breakfasts this morning while Friend Wife remained in bed, with the intention of keeping under cover the entire day. Today is Friday the thirteenth, alleged to be the unluckiest of all unlucky days.

But today is President Wilson's lucky day. It is the date set by him for solving one of the greatest problems of the hour, the railway employees' wage problem. There is only one other month in 1920 in which the 13th falls on Friday and that is in August.

THREATENED WITH JAIL UNLESS HE AIDED NEWBERRY

MAYOR OF FLINT TESTIFIES THAT SUPREME COURT FREED HIM AFTER NEWBERRY WAS ELECTED

By United Press Local Wire
Grand Rapids, Mich.—Work for Newberry or go to jail.

That was the alternative given William S. McKeegan, former mayor of Flint, during the Michigan primary campaign of 1918, he testified at the Newberry election fraud trial. Defense attorneys today attempted to shake his testimony, on cross examination.

Richard R. Fletcher, state labor commissioner, made the threat, McKeegan said, in the presence of Paul H. King, manager of the committee directing the campaign to elect Newberry to the senate; Fred Castator, a Detroit alderman, and Fred Henry of Flint, a deputy marshal under Fletcher.

McKeegan explained he was under sentence following conviction on an assault and battery charge and his case had been appealed to the supreme court.

"If you work for Newberry, you will get out," said Fletcher, McKeegan testified.

"If you don't you will go to jail," he testified. "I figured it was best to be on the safe side," the witness continued, and instructed his supporters to see that Newberry carried out district.

"Did he carry it?" Frank C. Dailey, prosecutor asked.

"He did," McKeegan replied.

"What happened to your case?" "It was reversed by the supreme court and I was exonerated," he testified.

"Do you mean to impeach the integrity of the supreme court?" asked Martin Littleton, defense attorney.

"I do not, but then you know politics are funny and I was simply taking no chances," the witness said. Dailey explained that he wished to make no attempt to impeach the integrity of the supreme court but the testimony was directed against King, Castator and Fletcher, all defendants.

FIRE CAUSES $200 LOSS AT HOME OF B. C. WOLTER

A telephone call at nine o'clock this morning sent the fire department to the home of B. C. Wolter 1519 Spencer street. Fire had broken out around the chimney on the south gable of the house, presumably from sparks flying from another chimney. The fire was extinguished in a short time, being confined wholly to the gable where it started. The damage will probably amount to $200.

grounds at the new vocational school building, and also to fill in on Allen street where the former stairway was located. The stairway has been taken out and will be replaced later with a permanent one to harmonize with the other improvements to the grounds. Considerable dirt is also needed at the end of Morrison street, where a water main burst some time ago and washed out part of the hill.

Filling is also required in the ravine on Washington street, west of Superior, to carry the street across and connect it with the fair grounds. With another opening on these grounds the congestion will be relieved on market days.

It is also intended to cover up some of the rubbish at the dump that faces College avenue as a health matter, and any surplus filling will be deposited there.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it; then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

INTEREST IN YEATS LECTURE IS GROWING

LARGE NUMBER OF WORKS OF IRISH POET-LECTURER ARE PLACED IN LOCAL LIBRARIES

Growing interest and enthusiasm among Appleton people concerning the Irish poet and author, William Butler Yeats, who will be here March 5, is evidenced by the daily demand at the city library for information concerning him and his works. Real appreciation can only come from knowledge and in order to provide for this demand the city librarian has arranged an extensive list of the material to be found on the subject in the library.

The list has been put up in the city and Carnegie libraries and in Main hall at Lawrence college. Extracts from the list are printed below:

Poetical works, Vol. 1 and 2; The Hour Glass; The Unicorn from the Stars; The Land of Heart's Desire; Celtic Twilight; Irish Fairy Tales; The Library also has a large number of criticisms on the poet-author in various books and periodicals which can be found by referring to the full list in the library.

Walter Green left today for Milwaukee, to visit his grandmother, Mrs. John Lanto, who is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Doine, a former Appleton resident.

STATE NEWS

WATROUS IS GOVERNOR OF VETERANS' HOME

Waupun.—At the February meeting of the governing body of the Wisconsin Veterans' home, the commandant, Col. Watrous, was made governor of the home. There is much rejoicing in the camp over the action of Gov. Philipp, in adding to the fund to meet the price of everything needed here, and restoring the system of creamery butter three times a day instead of once.

Ghent, in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, was the wealthiest city in Europe.

PHILIPP HAS NO CHOICE OF G. O. P. CANDIDATES

Madison.—"Among the men mentioned on the republican side I have no choice. I am of the opinion that the convention will find a man who comes closer to the ideal than any person who has yet been mentioned," said Gov. E. L. Philipp in a letter to Editor G. P. Talbot, Augusta, Ga., who asked him for his views on the presidential situation.

Gov. Philipp said the country needed a leader who would command the confidence of the people, a man of exceptional business ability, an organizer, and a man who possessed a clear comprehension of our foreign relations.

He wrote that our foreign relations should be "thoroughly Americanized," so that the United States would not be called into any European strife unless American interests were involved.

FIREMEN WILL MEET AT WAUPUN IN JUNE

Horicon, Wis.—The dates of the annual tournament and convention of the Wisconsin State Firemen's association have been fixed for June 16, 17 and 18, at Waupun. Over one hundred companies in the state belong to the association, and over three thousand firemen. The state officers of the association are: President, Henry Wessel, Oconomowoc; first vice president, Ernst Hausen, Fort Atkinson; second vice president, I. E. Forsyth, Cameron; treasurer, John West, Barron; secretary, B. J. Burt, Jefferson.

FLU CAUSES CHANGE IN U. OF W. PROM DATE

Madison.—The University of Wisconsin junior prom has been postponed for one month because of the influenza epidemic here. The annual formal student ball will be held Friday night, March 19, in the state capitol. From Chairman Lathrop Follett announced the changed date Thursday night.

Dancing prohibition will be enforced for at least another week, due to the unchanged influenza situation here, according to city health officials. The new date for the prom is definite and will not be changed, even though the ban is lifted before Feb. 13, Follett said.

MODIFY WEST POINT PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

Madison, Wis.—Honor graduates of schools to which regular army officers are detailed as instructors—such as the University of Wisconsin—will hereafter be admitted to West Point academy with no other physical examination, according to new orders issued by the war department and received at the headquarters of the department of military science and tactics of the university. This announcement is expected to heighten interest in military studies, according to Maj. John S. Wood, commandant of the department. A roster of honor schools will be prepared by the department following the annual inspection of schools. The inspection of the corps at the university will take place some time in May or June.

PASTOR OF HISTORIC CHURCH GOES EAST

Fort Atkinson, Wis.—One of the most picturesque spots in southern Wisconsin is occupied by St. John's Evangelical church in the township of Oakland, west of this city. There little church was built during the early history of the state by a colony of educated Germans who came at the time that the famous Carl Schurz migrated here. The church has been the life of the community and its pastors have exerted a wonderful and uplifting influence upon their congregations. The Rev. F. R. Moessner has recently been called to a larger field of endeavor at Pittsburgh, Pa. Shortly before his departure he was given a farewell surprise party by 1,000 of his parishioners.

BELOIT CENTENARIAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

Beloit, Wis.—George F. Dyer, one of the oldest residents in Wisconsin, died here on Monday at the age of 104 years. He retained his full faculties up to his death. Mr. Dyer was engaged in farming until he reached the age of 85 years, when he retired.

STATE LEASES ISLANDS FOR SUMMER RESORTS

Madison, Wis.—Do you want to lease a state-owned island on one of the northern Wisconsin lakes? In 1912 congress granted "all of the unsurveyed and unattached islands north of town 23 to the state to be used as additions to the forest reserve lands." Six hundred islands, totaling about 500 acres, have been surveyed and listed in a single instant places for summer homes or for summer camps. They vary in size from a fraction of an acre to over 10 acres. About fifty have been leased, but some of the most desirable are still available. They are in Ashland, Barron, Bayfield, Burnett, Douglas, Florence, Forest, Iron, Langlade, Lincoln, Marinette, Oneida, Polk, Price, Sawyer, Vilas and Washburn counties. The state conservation commission is leasing them.

LIQUOR BANDITS ROY CELLARS AT EAU CLAIRE

Eau Claire.—The cellars of Eau Claire citizens still continue to be the prey of liquor bandits. Reports of cellar raids are of almost daily occurrence and not in a single instance has there been an arrest. The latest place to be robbed are the homes of O. G. Bice, head of the Wisconsin Refrigerator company of this city, and J. T. Barber, head of the Northwestern Lumber company.

JANESVILLE POLICEMAN TO RUN FOR SHERIFF

Janesville.—Charles Handy, the fourth oldest member of the local police department in point of years of service, today formally announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Rock county, to succeed Fred Beley, whose term expires the first Monday in January, 1921. He is the first avowed candidate, although it is generally understood that Cash Whipple, Beloit, will run again.

SEES SPEEDY REDUCTION IN THE COST OF LIVING

By United Press Leased Wire Milwaukee.—Butter at 50 cents, fresh eggs at 45 cents and flour at less than $2 for 50 pounds is in sight, said Charles J. Petri, president of the retail grocers here today. The declines will be noticed before the end of February, said Petri. Every one is trying to unload flour. Adverse weather or railway tie ups might interfere, warns Petri.

FIVE MEMBERS OF ONE FAMILY DIE AFTER FIRE

Superior, Wis.—Five members are dead and two seriously ill of the family of John La Joie. The La Joie home was burned two weeks ago. For five hours after the fire, the family in their night clothes, sought shelter in a barn with only straw for covering in ten below zero temperature. All were soon stricken with pneumonia. Mrs. La Joie, her oldest daughter, the latter's twin babies and a three year old boy died.

MILWAUKEE THREATENED BY A SHORTAGE OF COAL

By United Press Leased Wire Milwaukee.—This city is threatened with partial suspension of industry due to a coal famine, declare coal dealers and members of the chamber of commerce. Commandeering of cars by the railroad administration is given as the main reason. Mines are compelled to operate only one to two days weekly and storage space for coal is lacking, said Edward A. Ubrigg, head of a big fuel company here.

COATING OF SHALE MAKES SAND ROAD GOOD HIGHWAY

Tomah, Wis.—The Tomah Springs Bank, Sparta road has been completed by shaling and this stretch of bad sand is now one of the best roads to be found. The shale was cut from a hill near Tunnel City, the only expense being for hauling. Byron Johnson, patrolman there, has been instrumental in pushing this project and in getting subscriptions from individuals and business firms.

POLICEMAN VIOLATES FLU RULE FINED $100

Marquette, Wis.—Fred Glanz, one of the special policemen sworn in to aid in handling the influenza situation, pleaded guilty to a charge of violation of flu rules and was fined $100 and costs. He was charged with allowing a crowd to congregate around a pool hall.

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD, HE ASSERTS

Howard Gains Fourteen Pounds Taking Tanlac and Lays Cane Aside.

"I've gained fourteen pounds in six weeks taking Tanlac and now I'm a well man," said Henry S. Howard, a well-known farmer and stock raiser of King Hill, Idaho.

"I had suffered from rheumatism and indigestion twelve years," he continued, "and could hardly eat a thing because everything went against me and I had no appetite. Every joint in me was swollen with rheumatism and I could not even barely hear to be touched. I was in such a bad fix I couldn't work and had to use a walking stick to get along. The first bottle of Tanlac made a great change in my feelings, my rheumatism soon left me and I threw my stick aside, for now I can walk as well as anybody."

"And eat!—why, I just can't get enough, and feel like I could do as much work as I ever could. Tanlac is worth its weight in gold, and it has convinced me that there's at least one medicine that will do what they say it will and I want to do my part in letting everybody know about it."

TANLAC IS SOLD IN APPLETON BY JOHN E. VOIGT, IN BLACK CREEK BY ARTHUR A. GERL, IN SOUTH KAUKAUNA BY KAUKAUNA DRUG CO., IN KAUKAUNA BY HENRY G. BRAUER, IN SEYMOUR BY S. G. McCORD, AND IN HORTONVILLE BY EDWIN G. GITTER.

THREATENS NEW PARTY IF SEDITION LAW PASSES

By United Press Leased Wire Chicago.—A third party will displace the democratic party if proposed sedition legislation is passed, E. B. Lane, Toledo, delegate to the All-American Farmer-Labor cooperative congress here, declared today.

"Proposed sedition legislation is unconstitutional," Lane said. "If it is passed it will place the democratic party in the same position that the old alien and sedition laws placed the Federalists in John Adams' day. As the federal party passed out of existence, so will the democrats take their place in the hall of 'has beens.'"

"A third party—probably the labor party—will take the place of the democrats in the political life of the country."

Lane is chairman of the municipal ownership of markets and cold storage committee of the international federation of America, a cooperative organization.

SWEET BILL OFFERS BIG CHANCE TO WAR VETERANS

New Law Makes It Possible for Many Men to Take Advantage of Government's Educational Offer

Through the passage of the Sweet bill by congress, disabled ex-service men will now be able to take advantage of the training and re-education offered by the government. Previously, it was found that lack of funds barred many men who were in need of the training.

Under the Vocational Rehabilitation act, any man receiving compensation is entitled to free instruction, but only those vocally handicapped are entitled to training pay. As a result, most men, not eligible for training pay could not take advantage of the free tuition offered, because they could not meet the living expenses at the school.

The increase provided by the new law for total and temporary disability equals the monthly training pay in the case of single men, and the amount allowed married men almost equals the training pay allotted by the Federal board. Correspondence and part time courses are included in the re-education plans.

The Home Service Section of the Red Cross, First National Bank building, will be glad to explain this arrangement further and assist any local disabled men to qualify for this training.

NEW WOMEN VOTERS MUST BE EDUCATED IN POLITICAL WAYS

HEAD OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION ASSERTS WOMEN WILL ACCEPT RESPONSIBILITY

(By Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt) (Written for the United Press)

Chicago.—With the ratification by Idaho thirty states are today on record in favor of the federal woman suffrage amendment.

The doors of citizenship are swinging wider each day to the new woman voter. Within them we see the present standards of citizenship as admitting of vast improvement.

There is need of education, not only for the illiterate, but in many cases for the college graduate. There is need of improvement in the methods of procedure. There is need of strengthening the principles and ideals of government.

So it comes about that one of the pressing duties awaiting the woman voter is political education for herself and for all the new woman voters.

The League of Women voters is accepting this responsibility for 1920; and during the days of the convention of the National American woman suffrage association and the league of women voters opening here today there will undoubtedly be worked out some nation wide plan for bettering citizenship, including the establishment of normal schools for the training of teachers and other schools in the states and towns all over the country.

Today there will be conferences of the six national committees of the league of women voters at which experts from all over the country will give a survey of existing conditions. From the discussions there will be developed a legislative program which will be submitted to the convention. From this the convention will formulate its request to the political party platform committees.

Thus the new League of Women Voters asks that the parties fulfill their responsibilities toward the citizens of the country. At the same time the women fitting themselves to be the best possible citizens pledge themselves to fulfill their responsibilities toward the parties.

OSHKOSH AND RIVER FALLS GUARD COMPANIES OVER

Recruiting Campaign in Wisconsin Pushed Harder Than Ever Following Failure of Universal Service Movement

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison, Wis.—The first organizations to report going over the top in the state-wide drive for recruits in the Wisconsin National Guard are Oshkosh, Janesville, with 32 and River Falls with 53 men for a company in the motorized section of the trains.

With the prospects for universal military training dead, the state-wide drive this week is being renewed with new vim for it is again brought out that the National Guard must continue to be the nation's big line of defense. It is held by officials that no organization in the state which favors reasonable training and preparedness of citizens for war service can now oppose the reorganization of the new guard, which is to be three times as large as the guard which Wisconsin sent to the border in 1916, as they contend that the safety of the country depends on the trained volunteer. They will be trained by officers and men who will impart front line knowledge obtained on the fields of France. It is believed by officials that the legislation will end with an act far more favorable to the national guard than any ever passed and that the day is past when national guard units called into the federal service will be split up as they were in the last war and that if Wisconsin troops go out again they will remain intact as a Wisconsin unit. With this legislation it is hoped the pay for armory drill will be materially increased.

WATER DEPARTMENT TO PUT SEALS ON METERS

Employees of the water department are at present engaged in sealing all water meters, and in connection with such work are placing utility tax numbers on each meter. This will mean that no meter in the future can be tampered with. Plumbers will be required to obtain permission from the department before a meter can be moved on account of repair work. The department intends to rigidly enforce this rule. The total number of meters is 3,100.

FLU AN UNWELCOME GUEST AT TRIAL OF NEWBERRY'S CASE

EVERY PRECAUTION IS TAKEN TO PREVENT ILLNESS—TRIAL WILL COST NEARLY A MILLION

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Grand Rapids, Mich.—The acid scent of carbolic acid is in the air of Federal Judge C. W. Session's court. Here, Truman H. Newberry and 134 others, charged with conspiring to elect Newberry to the Senate by fraud are on trial.

Influenza, alas flu, an unsummoned participant, has been active since the trial started. Stringent health rules have been devised to check its spread. Despite them, influenza frightens defendants, lawyers, witnesses, the jury and the judge.

No smoking is permitted in the corridors at any time.

The windows are open wide even when the snow flies.

The courtroom carpet is upside down to allay dust.

There are no recesses during the sessions because the health officer thinks they add to the dust menace.

Sneezes and coughs must be muffled. Judge Sessions has announced.

Despite precautions, influenza is causing troubles. Each morning defense lawyers announce defendants unable to appear because of influenza and waive their constitutional rights so that the trial may proceed in their absence.

Chewing tobacco is the popular preventive among the defendants. Handkerchiefs carrying antiseptic solutions are in evidence and the floors are sprinkled with disinfectant each night.

It is the fear of the government that some one of the jury will contract the disease and that the trial will be delayed. A new trial, in event of long sickness, might be necessary.

The government does not wish a new trial, it is said. This one has already taken thousands of dollars and it is estimated that its total cost will be nearly $1,000,000. At least 400 witnesses, drawing $1.50 a day in fees and 5 cents a mile for travel, will be called, it is believed. This was the number before the grand jury which returned the indictments against Newberry and his workers. The defense has announced that it will summon hundreds of character witnesses.

Three's a Crowd
Two is company, but three is very often a crowd in the Grand Rapids hotel lobbies now. The defendants gather in the evenings to discuss the day's proceedings. Let an unrecognized man stand nearby for more than an instant and there are murmurs of "Hush" and "pussyfooted."

Judge Sessions declined to issue an order forbidding government agents to sit among the defendants during the trial and the result has been much less whispering in the courtroom.

NEW AUDITORIUM IS PLANNED BY THE TOWN OF GREENVILLE

TOWNSPEOPLE ARE SOLICITING STOCK FOR COMMUNITY CENTER BUILDING—PRICES DROP

Greenville.—Greenville will have a new auditorium and community center this summer. Stock subscriptions are now being made among the residents by Rudolph Traube, John Heini and Leo Schreiter, promoters of the venture. The greatest interest in the move is shown by the Greenville local of the American Society of Equity, as it will provide a convenient gathering place for that organization.

Every head of cabbage in the cold storage warehouses has been placed on the market.

Last Monday evening the members of the Pedigree Chester White Swine association held a meeting at which important business matters were discussed. It was voted to hold meetings four times a year hereafter.

The stock scale owned by the Equity society has been built over so that it may be used as a public wagon scale, and a shelter building has been provided beside it.

Greenville expects to enjoy electric light within the next few days. The stringing of wires is practically completed, and the residents are very enthusiastic about the prospects of having modern lighting systems.

Two Greenville residents, William Lauden and William Breitrick, are seriously ill with pneumonia. It has been found difficult to secure the services of physicians, because of the large amount of sickness in Appleton, and the fact that teams cannot be procured with which to make the trips. Due to the large amount of snow, automobile trucks had to give way to horses in many cases, and this has caused a shortage among the Appleton livery barns.

A daughter was born Tuesday night to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith.

George Saubier left Thursday morning for Madison to attend the state guernsey sale.

Several residents of the town were at Appleton this week to attend the tractor repair school conducted by the Greely Implement Company.

And there is a bare possibility that milk prices may start downward; that is, if the prices paid at the Borden condensery are any indication of the trend. Within the next year, the price paid to farmers bringing milk there has dropped considerably. Farmers are expecting similar action in other quarters.

them by the Sherman house of Chicago. It was addressed to Judge J. W. Martin.

The letter was written by Joseph Fischer, a former employee of Thomas Vernucien's bakery who passed several worthless checks on Chicago wholesale houses, McGahn Brothers' stationery, was used.

Fischer went by the name of Judge J. W. Martin in Chicago and claimed to be a member of the local clothing firm. He wrote the letter to himself and signed the name of Jack Carr. The contents was:

"Excuse paper. Am writing this on train. Say to Garvey today. Everything O. K. Let me hear from you as soon as possible, and I will see said party and close deal. With best wishes, your friend, Jack Carr."

The worthless checks were turned over to postal inspectors who are now on Fischer's trail.

CASH WAR SAVING STAMPS TO GET SPENDING MONEY

Government Urges Stamp Owners to Keep Them Until Maturity—Thrifty Stamp to be Issued Every Year

Buy more thrifty stamps instead of cashing those you now have, is the advice of the local postoffice.

In records just compiled, it is shown that during the month of January, 71 persons cashed in one $5 stamp, 52 cashed two stamps and 38 cashed three stamps. Others in larger amounts were cashed also.

The indication seems to be, according to Gustave Keller, postmaster, that people do not regard it as a wise policy to keep their stamps. The fact that they are cashed in such small amounts makes it appear that it is done merely to secure ready spending money. Not only do people lose their hold on the habit of thrift, but they are not adding the government at a time when aid is needed. The government stands ready to redeem stamps at any time, but the more ready money Uncle Sam has in the treasury, the more efficiently can the needs of the administration be met. Mr. Keller said.

Saving stamps are a fixed institution, which is contrary to the opinion held by some that they were only a war financing measure. A new issue of $5 stamps and 25 cent thrifty stamps will be made every year, and they can be purchased at the postoffice any time. This is done to keep up the movement of thrifty among American people which it was demonstrated was possible during the war. It is far better, the postal department advises, to go without the few pleasures that the cashing of one stamp provides, for saving of money never meant so much to people as it does now when the purchasing power of a dollar is so low, and wages are correspondingly higher. Should prices drop in the near future, the money saved will have become of greater value than at the time it was invested in stamps or other securities.

DOCTOR SLEEPS IN SLEIGH WHILE MAKING HIS CALLS

Physicians So Exhausted That They Are Compelled to Sleep Every Possible Moment for Sleep

Save the doctor all the trouble you can these days, is a popular admonition. Most of them are so burdened because of the influenza epidemic that they are losing needed rest, and it is only sheer will power or fortunate strong vitality that keeps them from breaking down at a time when the demands on them appear superhuman.

One instance of what a doctor has to go through occurred within the past few days. A man residing in the country was taken ill with pneumonia and after being attended once by the only nearby physician, the doctor himself was taken ill himself and confined to his bed. Calls to several Appleton doctors found none able to go because of the time it would take away from serious cases in the city. One doctor approached said that he had been up night and day until he had become so tired that he felt unequal to any trip in the country. However, in his desire to be of service, he consented to go if a sleigh would be provided with a bed arranged at the bottom so he could sleep while en route. This was done, but progress over the roads was so slow that his patient suffered a hemorrhage before he arrived and his condition was too critical for relief. The man died a few hours later.

It is commonly known that some of the doctors have been up night and day at a time, and anything that can be done to make their way easy and their progress rapid will prove of help in minimizing the serious consequences of the epidemic.

BRITISH TREASURER SAYS BORROWING MUST CEASE

By United Press Leased Wire

London.—Great Britain will not participate in any financial agreement for credit schemes involving expenditures in the United States, Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, asserted in a letter made public last night.

Outlining the government's policy on propositions for an international financial convention, to consider means to stabilize exchange and trade conditions, Chamberlain said the government will be willing to enter such a conference if invited by a neutral or the league of nations. But he said, the government adhered to the general principle that borrowing between nations should cease.

Miss Bertha Schultz has been engaged as county school nurse by the local chapter of the Red Cross and her services will be entirely under the supervision of the committee on nursing activities which consists of Mrs. James A. Wood, chairman; Mrs. George Woelke, J. G. Pfeil, Miss Carrie Morgan, A. G. Meating, George P. Berkey, Mrs. William VanNortwick, the Rev. Doane Upjohn, Mrs. Agnes Arnold, Mrs. S. C. Shannon, Mrs. B. W. Wells, Mrs. Thomas O'Keefe, Mrs. A. Rechner, Mrs. Charles Reineck, Mrs. L. J. Marshall, Mrs. Conrad Verbrick and the Rev. Paul Nesper.

Miss Schultz comes highly recommended by the American Red Cross central division headquarters. She has served overseas and has had several years' experience in public health service. She is temporarily located in the office of the Red Cross Home Service, room 209, First National bank building. Her telephone number is 278. Any calls from the county will be received at that office. She will visit both public and parochial schools of the county and yesterday commenced her work at Black Creek. She will also make calls in the county in urgent cases.

The committee would like very much to cover all cases that might be reported, but school work is all that can be undertaken until the nursing staff is increased. The nurse's expenses will be paid by the chapter headquarters and its branches. Committees will be appointed throughout the county to cooperate with the nurse. Each child will be inspected, and where medical care or advice is needed the nurse will confer with the parents.

The Red Cross Chapter would like to extend the work to bedside nursing and home nursing, but with only one nurse it is impossible to do this. As the nursing staff increases the committee will extend its work outside of the schools.

AMERICAN BANKER STARTS ON JOURNEY TO ORIENT

By United Press Leased Wire

New York—Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan and Company left here early today for the far-east via Vancouver, to complete details of a $5,000,000 loan to China which has been proposed by leading bankers of the United States, France, Japan and England.

Representing the American group of bankers, Lamont will first visit Japan to confer with Japanese financiers.

Jeremiah Smith, a Boston lawyer, and Martin Egan, formerly a newspaper correspondent in China, accompanied Lamont.

SUGGESTS BOY SCOUTS OPEN MENASHA ROAD

Merchant Believes Sufficient Money Can Be Raised Here to Employ Youngsters to Work With Shovels.

An Appleton merchant who is interested in seeing the Appleton-Menasha road kept open, today offered a new suggestion for carrying out this work.

Plowing out the road, he states, seems to have been a failure. If four or five hundred boys could start from each city and shovel out the road, it would be done in a very short time. Those who use the road frequently, especially the factories, wholesale houses and stores, would probably be willing to contribute toward the expense of doing the work. If the Boy Scouts would undertake the work, for instance, they could amply replenish their treasury. Once put in condition by shoveling, he believes that the road could be kept open easily for the remainder of the season.

It improves a poor complexion and preserves a good one, so that you need no artificial means to enhance your attractiveness.

At the first sign of skin irritation, of a blotch or a pimple, itching or burning, apply Resinol Ointment, and see if it doesn't bring prompt relief. It contains harmless, soothing balsams, and is so nearly flesh colored that it may be used on exposed surfaces without attracting undue attention.

LITTLE DEMAND FOR CITIZENSHIP BOOKS

CITY APPARENTLY IS NOT WORKING HARD AT AMERI-CANIZATION — BOOKS
FOR THE BLIND

Whether there is no need for it, or whether Appleton never got around to it, there has been little Americanization work carried on here as compared with other cities.
At the Free Public library, there has been practically no call by foreigners for books on citizenship.
The schools, however, have shown a keen interest in the subject by request of their frequent requests for debating and speaking material on the subject, according to Miss Ruth McCullough, librarian. This need will be more fully met in the near future by a shipment of books and other material on this subject which is on the way at the present time, and which will greatly enrich the collection now on hand.

A nation-wide movement has been started by the American Library association to distribute good books and educational literature in the remote parts of the country where books are seldom seen, and also to provide a greater number of books for the blind, who are handicapped in their hunger for literary treasures by the limited number of books in blind lettering. Finding how practical their work proved during the war, the library association is sending a representative to each section of the country to confer with libraries, schools and other organizations for broadening the scope of the work. The representative touring this section of the country is expected here Saturday.

A definite program of Americanization is being carried out at the present time by the Kimberly-Clark company, which is aiming to make its employees full-fledged American citizens. It is said that a surprisingly large enrollment of workers attends these classes which are conducted by experts and with a liberal educational equipment supplied by the company.

Miller's Antiseptic Oil, Known as

Snake Oil

Positively Relieves Pain in Few

Try it right now for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, sore, stiff and swollen joints, pain in the head, back and limbs, corns, bunions, etc. After one application pain usually disappears as if by magic.

A new remedy used internally and externally for coughs, colds, croup, influenza, sore throat, diphtheria and tonsillitis.

This Oil is conceded to be the most penetrating remedy known. Its prompt and immediate effect in relieving pain is due to the fact that it penetrates to the affected parts at once. As an illustration, pour ten drops of the thickest Snake Oil leather and it will penetrate this substance through and through in three minutes.

Accept no substitute. This great oil is golden red color only. Get it at Lowell's drug-store exclusively. adv.

PRETTY GIRLS AND SNAPPY COMEDY GIVES T. B. M. REAL TREAT

FANCHON - MARCO REVUE DE LIGHTS BIG AUDIENCE AT APPLETON THEATRE

The packed house which greeted Fanchon and Marco in their 1920
Revue at the Appleton theatre last evening was in no way disappointed.
Pretty girls and fantastic dancers were anticipated, and they had both.
With their own jazz orchestra to accompany their production, they gave their hearers a musical program that was up to the minute.

There was not a dull in their program except for the intermission, and the humor of the comedians furnished plenty of laughter to drive away dull care. Too much cannot be said for Miss Fanchon and Mr.
Marco themselves. The exceeding grace and skill of their dancing was the work of artists and the keen appreciation of the audience was manifested in the volume of applause that greeted their appearance in the different episodes.

Arthur West in his comic parts with his unending dry humor gave spice to the production. The chief laugh producers of the company, however, were Nelson and Clark, who with their antics and jokes occupied a liberal portion of the program at the repeated encores of the audience.

The costumes of the cast were varied and beautiful. Mack Sennett bathing girls excelled anything before shown under that name, and no end of admiration was expressed for the gowns and dancing dress of the chorus.

On two occasions the orchestra
had its inning by driving the jazz music to wild tremors, and getting out of the orchestra pit to do weird antics.

As a whole, the western troupe lived up to the reputation gained in other cities, and continued presentation of a high quality production will no doubt merit it the reception it cherishes when it reaches Broadway this spring.

FLU EPIDEMIC IN THE STATE IS SUBSIDING

REPORTS FROM EIGHTEEN LARG-EST CITIES INDICATE FEW-ER CASES OF THE DISEASE.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Madison.—Cases of influenza reported from the entire state for Monday, February 8, 1920, total 2,590.
For the state as a whole 47 cases of pneumonia following influenza were reported, and 73 deaths from influenza and pneumonia. Eighteen of the largest cities throughout the state reported for Monday 399 cases of influenza, 40 cases of pneumonia, 10 deaths from influenza, and 50 deaths from pneumonia.

For Tuesday, February 10, 1920, 15 of the largest cities reported 222 cases of influenza, 31 cases of pneumonia, 18 deaths from influenza, and 30 deaths from pneumonia. The report for Tuesday, February 10, shows for the entire state 1,291 cases of influenza, reported, with 45 cases of pneumonia and 54 deaths from influenza and pneumonia following influenza.

For the eighteen largest cities in the state there can be no doubt but that the epidemic is rapidly subsiding. The number of cases reported from day to day for the past week indicate a very rapid reduction in the number of new cases for these cities.
For the balance of the state it is impossible to state, as yet, whether or not the epidemic is on the decline.

The total cases reported for Monday indicate an increase, but this was probably due to the report for that day including also the cases reported on Sunday. It appears that the highest point of the epidemic both for the cities and for the rural districts had been reached, and the board confidently expects a very material decline in the number of cases reported each day from now on. It is to be expected that there will not be a decline in the number of deaths from influenza and pneumonia following influenza for several days, infact there may be an increase on account of the large number of persons who are now ill with this disease.

From the investigations made in various parts of the state and from reports received daily at the State board of Health office it is very evident that a large number of the deaths occur-ing as a result of this epidemic could have been avoided, if the instructions which the board have published throughout the state had been followed.

It is very important that every person who becomes ill with influenza should go home at once and go to bed.
This will help keep away dangerous complications, such as pneumonia, and will at the same time prevent the unnecessary spread of the disease to well persons. The board feels confident that if every one who has influenza during this epidemic would stay in bed or at least stay in the house for at least four days, after the temperature registers normal, the deaths from pneumonia or from other serious complications would be reduced from 25 percent to 50 percent.

GOVERNOR REFUSES TO PARDON PRISONERS

PHILIPP GIVES HOPE TO FIVE PRISONERS THAT THEY MAY BE RELEASED ON PA-ROLE SOON

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Madison, Wis.—Governor Philipp refused to grant any pardons at the monthly hearing Wednesday afternoon, but gave hope to five prisoners that they may secure their release on parole within a short time.

Joseph LeTour, convicted of murder in the first degree in Sawyer county
Dec. 5, 1896 and sentenced to prison for life has served sufficient time to be eligible for parole. Governor Philipp declared that although he would not pardon the man, if a suitable home is found for a man of his years, 60, and the parole board grants him a parole it will be approved and signed.

Fred Anderson of Lincoln county, convicted at Wausau Dec. 30, 1918 of burglary and sentenced to 3 years in state prison, had his sentence commuted for 2 years.

Otto Laven, convicted in the Milwaukee municipal court June 6, 1916 of assault with intent to rob and sentenced to state prison for 8 years, was granted a parole as he will be eligible for parole in June and if his good behavior continued the governor will sign his parole at that time.

The application of August Probernow, convicted of second degree murder in Clark county July 11, 1914 and sentenced to state prison for 16 years was continued until the March hearing.

The governor refused pardons to

Prominent Women Testify

Hillsdale, Mich.—"I am giving this testimony regarding the merits of Dr. Pierce's medicines from the actual use of them and the good they have done me. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for feminine trouble and it cured me in a very short time. I have also taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The doctor once burnt my tonsils with caustic and they would not heal up; they would bleed, and 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me when nothing else seemed to do any good. I have also used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Pierce's medicines; they are all good."—Mrs. SARAH CULVER, 72 St. Joseph St.

Doctors Advised Operation

Trout Lake, Mich.—"I doctored with several doctors and they all told me I would have to have an operation. Then I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription so I took six bottles of it and I have never been bothered with the same trouble since. 'I shall always recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to every one I can. It has been over twenty years since I took this medicine.'—Mrs. GEORGE PALMANTER, Box 43.

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT PERMIT USE OF FLUSHBOARDS

PLAN OF RIPARIAN OWNERS TO KEEP WATER LEVEL DOWN VETOED BY THE WAR DEPARTMENT

The war department, through the office of the chief of engineers, has declined to approve the Menasha dam regulations agreed upon by the Association for Relief from High Water. Official information to that effect was forwarded to Clyde B. Terrell, secretary of the committee of joint water power users and riparian owners, and a copy of the notification has been received here.

The mill men and riparian owners' committee requested that during 1920 an attempt be made to keep the lake level from rising more than 5 inches above the crest of the Menasha dam as far as practicable by operating sluices; that 8-inch flushboards be placed and operated when the lake level has fallen to a point where the water does not flow over the boards; that, after the flushboards have been so placed, the water be sluiced whenever necessary to prevent the level from again rising to more than 8 inches above the crest of the dam; and that the flushboards be removed whenever the water level rises above the 8-inch point.

The chief engineer takes the position that, as the association includes only a small per centage of the riparian owners, any plan or agreement entered into by the association or its committee would have no standing as against claims for injury from high water which might be made if the flushboards are put on.

The communication recites in detail the many meetings, experiments and agreements in connection with the water level problem from 1872 to 1906. After a public hearing in Oshkosh, May 14, 1906, the war department in July of that year had revoked the license agreement of 1899, which permitted the use of 8-inch flushboards, the reason being that the department feared damage claims from riparians.

As to trying the plan during 1920, the chief of engineers writes that water conditions vary so greatly from year to year that one year's test would not be conclusive and the plan would finally resolve itself into nothing more than the present plan of regulation, except that flushboards would be permitted whereas they are now prohibited.

The proposed plan, continues the engineer, would be of only very limited benefit to the mill owners and, while it might not cause actual injury to riparians, would be construed as a violation of the agreement made between the United States and riparian owners many years ago, when flowage damages were paid; furthermore the plan is not necessary for navigation.

In conclusion the engineer says that Col. Edward H. Schulz of Milwaukee, district engineer in charge of this locality, is preparing a comprehensive report on the subject and that this is to include a plan to meet the joint need of water power, navigation and riparian owners, and at least until that is received, approval of the plan suggested by the joint committee would be declined.

EMPLOYMENT OFFICE IS ONE OF BIGGEST NEEDS OF THE CITY

RED CROSS AND COUNCIL OF DEFENSE REPRESENTATIVES AGREE THAT BUREAU IS NECESSARY.

An employment bureau at the city hall is being definitely agitated as the result of the suggestion made several days ago by Gustave A. Keller, postmaster, who found no office to which he could send offers of employment through the civil service commission.

Since the County Council of Defense went out of active service, George A. Schmidt has voluntarily kept up his war-time work of finding employment for idle men. When consulted as to the need of a free employment bureau for the city of Appleton, he stated that the frequent applications made to him indicated a need for such an office. While he does all he can to take care of the men who come to him, he states that he cannot do justice to the work because of the lack of time.

All that is needed," said Mr. Schmidt, "is a system similar to those in use in other places, keeping record both of jobs and of men wanting places. Once the system is established, it requires very little time on the part of some clerk to handle it. The manufacturers have shown a willingness to co-operate with me whenever I had men who wanted specific kinds of work, and the same situation and perhaps greater interest would be shown in a municipal department of that kind."

As an illustration of what he had accomplished, he told of a man who came from Oshkosh and begged work. He had been unable to earn enough to support his family there.

and was worn out and down to his last cent. Appearing to be a man of initiative and sincere purpose, Mr. Schmidt recommended him to a mill superintendent and he was given a job. Now the man is a foreman in the plant earning good wages and is about to move his family here.

Another organization that would welcome a municipal employment office is the Home Service Section of the Red Cross. Its calls for employment are chiefly from ex-service men, and its work does not provide for maintaining a list of positions open in the various industrial and commercial institutions. Invariably the Home Service has directed its applicants to Mr. Schmidt, who has cheerfully given what service he could. The work would be made much more practical if a which men could be directed. The Red Cross is anxious to see the movement come to definite action.

Mayor J. A. Hawes expressed his approval of the plan for establishing an employment bureau in the city hall if it could be found practical to do so.

He asked for a few days in which to make inquiries about conditions and the possibility of opening such an office, and promised a definite announcement in a short time.

All who have discussed the matter feel that it is an altruistic move if nothing else. The welfare of Appleton's workmen should be looked after, especially at a time like this when the loss of even a few days from employment might cause suffering to a family. The vocational idea which is creeping into cities and factories, placing men in work for which they are fitted, might be worked into an employment office, it is stated, and this alone would be worth the effort and expense. If any, to keep a labor clearing house active here. An employment office is nothing new in any modern city, nor is it an untried experiment, and it simply appears to those who have studied the situation that Appleton will be a bit behind the modern trend until the city takes this step.

PRAYER LEAGUE SHOWS BIG GROWTH IN 6 YEARS

Memphis, Tenn.—A strange league for prayer has just celebrated its sixth anniversary. Starting with eight persons in Jan. 19, 1914, it has grown to a gigantic organization with 2,431 members, scattered over many different states. It is called the "Noon Prayer League," organized and still promoted by Rev. Ben Cox, pastor of the Central Baptist Church. He is also president of the Protestant Pastors' Association of Memphis.

Thirty-minute meetings have been held at noon every week-day since the league was founded. Local members gather at the church; others, kneel at their homes in many distant cities, at the same hour.

Requests for prayer are received by mail from persons throughout the United States nearly every day.

"We have received thousands of requests," Rev. Cox said, "Mothers have asked us to pray for the reformation of their wayward sons; men have asked us to pray that they will lead better lives; others have asked for prayer to relieve them of illness, to locate lost relatives or save them from financial ruin."

Many prominent churchmen, including Gypsy Smith, have spoken at the daily meetings. They are entirely non-sectarian.

Rev. Cox is another believer in the efficacy of soup as well as salvation. The prayer league contributes funds with which to feed homeless men in the church basement. Rev. Cox says 140,000 bowls of soup have been served in the past six years.

APPLETON AMONG LEADERS IN RECRUITING DRIVE

More Than Eighty Men Are Now Enrolled in Guard Company Here—Abbottford Goes Over the Top

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—Abbottford with a supply company in the trains is the third city in the state to report being over the top in the week's state-wide drive for national guard recruits. This makes two companies in the supply train that have recruited to the required strength, the other being River Falls. Neither were in the old guard. Two more companies are needed to complete the Supply train, Jefferson, Clintonville and New London are three of the five cities designated for ammunition train companies.

Reports show that material gains have been made throughout the state during the first two days of the drive. Appleton leading with a gain of 12, going from 69 to 81.

Companies now over the top are: Infantry, Tomah, Oconomowoc, Beaver Dam, Ripon, Milwaukee, Neillsville, Oshkosh, Madison; cavalry, Troops A and B, Milwaukee, Fort Atkinson; heavy artillery, Hartford; trains, River Falls and Abbottford.

General Holway is greatly pleased over the showing Appleton has made at the opening of the drive and while he has been confident from the first that Appleton would deliver he is elated over the way the organization there has taken a hold of the drive and it is believed here that Appleton will be one of the next cities to go over the top and the first machine gun company to reach the required strength, as the opinion exists here that machine gun is what is wanted there.

MAJORS AND MINORS NOT IN AGREEMENT

BUT HOPE IS ENTERTAINED THE DIFFERENCES WILL BE SETTLED BEFORE THE DAY ENDS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—An agreement between the major and minor baseball leagues will probably be reached today, President John Heydler of the National league said here today early.

President Heydler decided late yesterday to postpone his return to New York until further conference today between the committees representing the major and minor leagues shall determine definitely whether or not a new working agreement is possible.

The failure of President Ban Johnson of the American league to lend his official sanction to the conference yesterday afternoon disturbed the calm of the diamond moguls. Johnson could not be located all day yesterday and no official committee representing the American league was present at the afternoon meeting.

Secretary Grabiner of the Chicago White Sox, Secretary Richardson of the Washington club and President Johnson's secretary attended the meeting, however.

The minor league magnates said the chance for an agreement appeared small in view of Ban Johnson's reported attitude that any arrangements with the minors would be useless until the Baltimore federal league suit attacking the validity of the national commission is settled.
